ABOUT US

Quanta Group is an International Human Resource Consulting Firm.

Founded in Milan, Italy, in 1997, Quanta Group has over 30 branches in Italy.

The Group started its international activities in 2000, and currently has offices in several countries: Usa, Brazil, Switzerland, Romania, Lybia.

Quanta was first in its sector in developing a Quality System with ISO 9001:2008 Certification, followed by the SA 8000:2008 Ethical Certification. The Group pursues a development policy which lets all internal and external factors benefit and help create an ambitious result made of high service standards.

EXPERIENCE

Since 2002 Quanta has structured its offer by valuing the presence of qualified teams that have acquired - with time - the necessary experience and special operational skills to interpret the needs of both companies and workers and to deal with these needs proficiently.

As the Vice President, Mr. Vincenzo Mattina, stated in a recent interview, "we have followed a method which is vertical to the market and allows us to understand the evolution of production technology and the organizational process development trends, so to train, often ahead of time, the professionals that are going to be requested by companies operating in various fields over the short and medium term".

In a constantly evolving environment the value of specialisation lies in the ability to understand the context, the key skills and the company's culture, in order to plan an intervention which is consistent with the long term needs of the organization.
